

UNLESS THE LORD

© Myles Bing 1998

Unless the Lord builds the house
The building is no good
The walls fall down,
The doors are skew
And the rain leaks through the roof,
SPLASH!
But when the Lord builds the house
The building is just right
The walls are strong
The doors are straight
And the roof is waterproof
(Boom, boom, unless...)